

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A disk cartridge comprising a flat housing and a recording disk medium. The flat housing is constructed of upper and lower metal shells, and the recording disk medium is rotatably enclosed within the housing. The housing is assembled by mechanically linking the circumferential edge portions of the upper and lower shells together.